

Welcome to our Communion Service today.

Reverend Alan Davies will be preaching from Ephesians 5:1-21

Please join us for refreshments after the service.

There will be cafe church here this evening at 6.30 pm

IMPORTANT NOTICE:

On Wednesday week, July 14th, all electrical equipment will have its annual check. ALL equipment used on the premises must be tested. If you bring anything from home to use at church that must also be tested so please ensure that it is here. Thank-you.

On Monday the Little Acorns children continued working on our Noah's Ark story banner, making their own rainbows with felt squares, and contributing to the giant rainbow. The banner is coming with us to Gressenhall Farm on Friday 2 July for our first Little Acorns outing - we're expecting 23 grown-ups, and lots of children. Because we're not hosting the event, it will be a good chance for us just to mingle with the families. And fingers crossed for good weather and lots of shade for the children as well!

Chris has shared with me a story about a visitor we had to Little Acorns two weeks ago. One of our regular families had a visitor from Germany. I'd noticed him during the singing; how he seemed so happy as we sang 'Who made the fish that swim? Our Father God!' He was of traditional Bavarian build, middle-aged, wearing round glasses and rainbow braces. During free play Regina, the mum, called Chris over to introduce him to her friend. She said to Chris, 'He can see your heart.' Chris says he was taken aback for a moment, as he's seen it all (or most of it!) before, but then her friend jumped in. He said 'You have all these banners around the church, all the crosses. But Jesus isn't on the cross. He's here, with us, right now, while we're playing.'

And yet why should we be surprised? We pray for this every time. Isn't it good to be reminded!

News of the church family:

Margaret and John King are away in Cornwall for nearly 3 weeks with their family

Trisha and Paul Harvey moved to Little Melton on Saturday

Barrie Sullivan went for a check-up prior to a hip replacement operation and was found to have a slight heart problem. He now has to see a consultant before they are able to do the operation.
