

Today Alan is preaching.

The service will include communion.

Crèche and Sunday School are available.

Everyone is welcome to stay for refreshments afterwards.

There will be a café style church service this evening at 6.30pm
when we will be thinking about God's view of money

Please pray for

- Monday: Paul and Sue Spurgeon
Tuesday: Barrie and Frances Sullivan
Wednesday: Rita Wing
Thursday: Those for whom the tragedy of war is real as they remember those who have been killed in current or past wars
Friday: Clare Freeman
Saturday: The work of BU Home Mission - don't know? Ask someone
Sunday: Janice and Alan, that they will know God's wisdom when faced with too many tasks

This week at Wymondham Baptist Church:

This week at Wymondham Baptist Church.

- Monday: 10.00am Little Acorns
1.30pm Stroke Association
Wednesday: 10.00am Lip reading class
Thursday: 7.30pm Home group at 2 Albansfield, Wymondham
Friday: 10.00am Bible Study in lounge
Sunday: 10.30am Morning service for Remembrance Sunday, including 2 minutes silence

Monday is Alan and Janice's day off. If you need to speak to someone that day, please phone Christine in the first instance. (01953 602692 or 07517 491495)

FAMILY NEWS

News of the Church family

It was good to see so many family and friends with us to support Matt and Eve last Sunday. It was especially good that Joan was well enough to come. Unfortunately she was unwell the next day but is picking up again.

John and Margaret are away visiting family this weekend; we hope they are getting some needed respite.

A number of our friends are under the weather in one way or another. We hope everyone soon recovers and that those undergoing various medical tests will receive good news at the end of them.

Many thanks to Chris and Ann for organising the bonfire party. A report will appear next week.

The Church meeting this month will be one week later than usual on 24th November.

Little Acorns baby and toddler group

Mondays 10:00am, Queen Street

Little Acorns has a wonderful problem - we are getting bigger and bigger.

On Monday we broke our previous record and had 59 children plus their grannies, aunts, mummies and daddies along for play, singing, a snack of rice cakes, and making tissue paper bonfire pictures. And seven of those families signed up to come along to the church's Bonfire Party on Friday! We did see some of them on the night, but as it was dark, we're not sure just how many were there... still it is wonderful to see them warm to spending more time with God's people.

As thrilling as it is to see Acorns growing so popular, we're not convinced that bigger numbers are the best measure of effectiveness. Our lovely roomy church allows us to grow, but it means that we have less personal contact with the families. At the same time, even with all this space it is starting to feel very crowded. We're discussing several solutions, but we want to take Acorns in the direction God has for it. Please help us to pray how to move forward, so that we may reach the right people, in a more meaningful way.

Tracy