

PRAYER DIARY

Monday: That we will make time during this week to really consider the message of Easter.

Tuesday: That we will be fearless in our witness as Jesus was even though he knew He was in danger

Wednesday: That we will have the heart of a servant as Jesus did when he washed the disciples' feet.

Thursday: That we will learn to watch and pray so that we do not fall into temptation

Friday: For a deeper understanding of what our salvation cost Jesus.

Saturday: That we will prepare ourselves to experience again the joy of Easter.

Sunday: For us to know that the risen Christ is among us as we worship.

LITTLE ACORNS

Even with the weather getting warmer we are still welcoming lots of families into our church to come and play, and we even have a family coming up from London! - they are hoping to move to the area, and every time they come up to visit, they come and play with us so they can start making new friends.

With Easter around the corner we will have several Mondays through April and May when we don't meet at all. We are making the most of the time together up until then: last week the children made rocking chicks out of a painted yellow paper plate (thanks Helen C!), complete with yellow feathers and goggly eyes. Tomorrow they will make an Easter card (thanks Mags!), and might even find a brightly coloured Easter egg or two (thanks Rachel!) We hope the sun shines on us so we can start opening up the garden with this activity, where the children will find inside their egg an Easter message, an invitation to our Easter service, and a bit of chocolate!

As you can see there are lots of people involved in making Little Acorns happen, and each person (there are lots of others I didn't name!) contributes hugely to the whole picture of making it happen. It's important to the families that they see regular faces in their regular places, so they can build relationships with our team. Thank you to everyone who helps out behind the scenes as well as on the day - it's a huge encouragement to all of us that you all support what happens here on a Monday.

Urgent help needed

We urgently need someone to collate our weekly newsletter. The job involves the initial design of a standard template.

Information will be provided to paste into the template before forwarding to Rob Chambers who prints and distributes ready for Sunday. If you would like to find out more please speak to Nigel Hannant, Tracy Kenny or Rob Chambers.
